"Cheap! Cheap!"

Who are such advertisements directed to? Careful buyers who want first-class clothing?

It may be a Boy's Suit at $1.53. "Slaughtered and sacrificed!!!" "It beats the town!" or some such skyrocket phrases.

Is there anything in it? Will the price give any idea of quality? Can it be made to say whether that buys all-wool, or whether it's some almost valueless goods? Doesn't such a price seem something of a harpooning advertisement for trade?

When the goods are looked at the big words fall to the ground like the dull sticks they are.

Quality and work and style give value to clothing. As well look at day-light through an owl's eyes as expect to know a quality by a price.

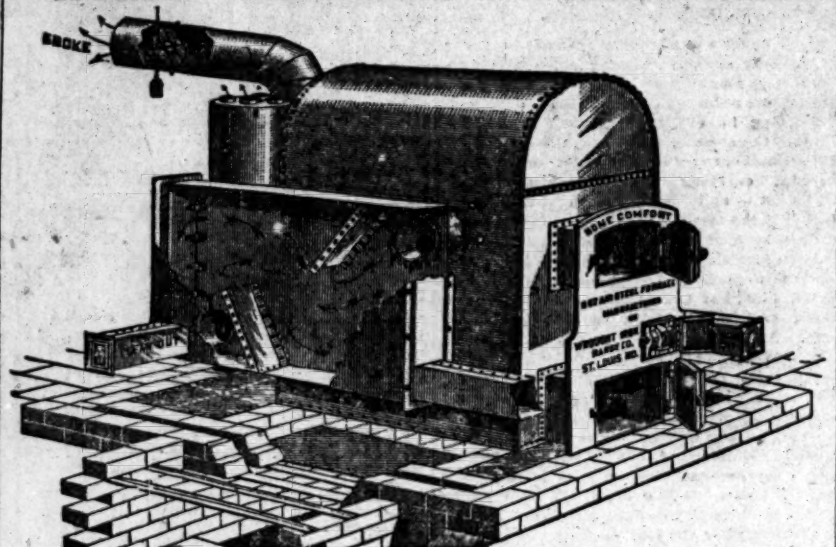

We have a more sensible way of getting low prices. We manufacture the clothing. Then, we sell it to you direct, under our own roof. We offer the lowest prices because we let no profits go to anybody but you and us.

But we believe there's only one way to judge price. We use only reliable cloth and work. So we say: See the clothing. Then, see if the price suits.

We believe that our solid and straight path to a large business.

LATEST EDITIONTHE CRISIS IN FRANCE.*DEFEATED IN THE CHAMBER, THE ROUVIER MINISTRY RESIGNS.

A Ministerial Motion Secured Under-Hartington's Visit to Ireland Likely to Cause Trouble—Parnell's Health—Chamberlain's Reception in America—Regarded by the Unionist Press—Forsaken Irishmen—Earthquakes at Nice—Foreign News.

PARIS, November 18.—Soon after the Chamber of Deputies met to-day the Extreme Left moved an interpolation of the Government on the question of its domestic policy. A motion was made by the Ministry to postpone the debate. This motion was rejected by a vote of 287 to 243.

Prime Minister Rouvier immediately announced the resignation of the Cabinet.

ATTACKED BY CLEMENCEAU. The motion for an interpolation of the Government was made by M. Clemenceau. President of the Chamber, he proposed to debate on the subject be adjourned until the 24th inst. In the interest of the measure for the conversion of the public debt, M. Clemenceau said it was a singular method of securing the holders of the public debt to tell them that they could live in peace until the 24th, and to promise that there would then be a crisis such as had never before occurred.

The public, he declared, had too long awaited an explanation. There was practically no government. The Ministry was not in condition to guide a Republican policy. Parliament was abandoned to the direction of the Right. The law officers of the state and the police were in conflict, and the administrative disorder was complete.

GREAT EXCITEMENT. The division on the Government's proposal to adjourn the debate was taken at the conclusion of M. Clemenceau's speech. Upon the motion of the Chamber of Deputies, the Chamber adjourned until Monday amid great excitement. Subsequent to the adjournment of the Chamber of Deputies the Ministers held a conference, after which they proceeded to the Palace of the Elysee and placed their resignations in the hands of President Grevy.

THERE MAY BE TROUBLE. Objections to Hartington's Visit to Ireland—Parnell's Health.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, November 18.—It is difficult to describe the irritation which Hartington's approaching visit to Dublin is causing in Irish circles. The visit was, I believe, suggested by Goeben, who is a furious Unionist. The result may be a sad collapse. Among the wilder Irishmen there is a feeling that Hartington is going to speak, and an attempt may be made to break up his meetings. The Irish especially resent the endeavor of the Unionist leaders to impress the English people with an idea that they have captured Dublin when they more than ten thousand followers, all told. The obvious aim of the Government policy is, as Mr. Labouchere says, "to transfer the control of the National movement from men of 40 to men of 20," and so get an excuse for more crushing measures of coercion.

PARNELL. Mr. Parnell hangs quietly about the Sussex coast, but nobody except his secretary knows how he is spending his time. I believe his health is still very bad, and his disposition to wearing out or responsibility increases. He controls his party, however, and will lead it again next season.

CHAMBERLAIN IN AMERICA. The Unionist newspapers nearly all follow the lead of the Times in representing the Chamberlain's reception as a triumphant refutation of the report that America's feeling is all in favor of home rule. T. P. O'Connor, writing to the Daily News, says that many of the leading figures at the Chamberlain banquet were present at Justin McCarthy's also. One of them pointed out that the latter entertainment would be described as a meeting of dynamites and foreign masters of the Irish conspirators.

OLDFATHER. Mr. Gladstone may possibly winter in the South of France.

WOLFF ACCEPTS. Sir Henry Drummond-Wolff, I believe, has accepted the Persian Embassy. He is poor and weak, and he is old. His destination to Persia is his father's wonderful career in that country.

LOVE WOLVERTON'S WEALTH. Lord Wolverton died worth about £5,000,000. Lady Wolverton, I hear, is his sole legatee.

WILLIAM K. VANDERBILT. He is said to have purchased a number of costly articles left by King Louis of Bavaria.

LITERARY CHAT. Walter Besant is about to start a new literary venture, called the "People's Palace Magazine."

H. RIDER HAGGARD is going on a lecturing tour through America with Stanley Little.

H. E. WATTS' forthcoming translation of "Don Quixote" will be issued in five volumes and will be as nearly as possible a literal rendering from the original. It will contain a new biography of Cervantes. Professor Sayce and Francis Perceval are leaving England for Cyprus with a view to fresh archaeological researches.

SCARED BY EARTHQUAKES. Recent shocks at Nice—Mutilating Dead Bodies—Paris Gossip.

SPECIAL CABLEGRAM TO THE POST-DISPATCH. PARIS, November 18.—A well-known lady who has a villa at Nice told me on her return from that place this week that several sharp shocks of earthquake had been felt there during the month of October. The Nice papers have been silent on the subject, but a great many of the old winter residents have been trying to let their villas, being afraid themselves to run the risk of another catastrophe.

Egypt and the Grecian Islands will be the fashionable resorts this winter. It is almost impossible to obtain accommodations at either Cairo or Malta.

A GRAVEYARD HORROR. A curious story comes from Le Vallois-Perret, a gloomy suburb of Paris. For some time past the newly-made graves in the cemetery there have been disturbed, and on several occasions the remains of recently-buried persons have been found abstracted from the coffins and left in obscure parts of the grave-

The Plans for Deepening and Confining the River.

The improvements contemplated by the Commissioner Murphy in the river from the city include mainly that portion of the river between the city and the mouth of the river.

stream between the mouth of the Missouri and the present Water-works. It is not generally known that the city charter prescribes the harbor of the city to be "that portion of river between the mouth of the Missouri and the mouth of the Meramec." The city lies between the north end of Chain of Rocks and the mouth of the River des Peres. This makes the harbor cover about twelve miles more of rine territory than is included in the city limits. This will explain why Commissioner Murphy feels that it is the duty of his department to move earnestly in the matter of proving that part of the river above Chain of Rocks. The portion between mouth of the Des Peres and the Meramec in good condition and will need but little will protect that portion of Madison County land immediately west of I Lake. The change in the me of the Missouri River of late years seriously threatened the eastern bank of Mississippi at the point named, and the deflection of the current of both rivers to Missouri shore above the Chain of Rocks work harm to the western banks. The C missioner thinks that a survey by the United States Corps of Engineers will show that the comparatively small amount of river can be confined permanently to its natural channel and thus a large amount of threatened damage averted and a large amount of good valuable land reclaimed. Missouri and Illinois are both interested in the proposed improvement.

ments because the secretions under the of riparian rights that would naturally made to the contiguous property would course, belong to the owners in each State.
The Commission says there is a appropriation now available for improvements named that can used at the discretion
the Secretary of War. The appropriation removal of snags, obstructions, etc., in harbor of St. Louis has been partially completed by Maj. Miller in doing some excavation work in front of the city. Those who are largely interested in the marine commerce of the city have the utmost confidence in the present head of the United States Engineer Corps in this district.
